Presentation Title

During 2022, the House of Good tones Foundation had many projects, the most prominent of which is the social housing project. In the next few points, we will present you the projects that we have worked over the past year.

SOCIAL HOUSING B&H AND CROATIA

Homes for 63 families were built

During 2022, in a cooperation with the financial support of donors from Austria and Liechtenstein, a total of 63 houses were built and a home is provided for the same number of families from Bosnia and Herzegovina and Croatia.

25 houses were built in Bosnia and Herzegovina

In Bosnia and Herzegovina during 2022, 25 houses were built for returnee families, refugees and displaced persons, and persons in social need. These are multi-member families with minor children who finally got the conditions for a decent life.

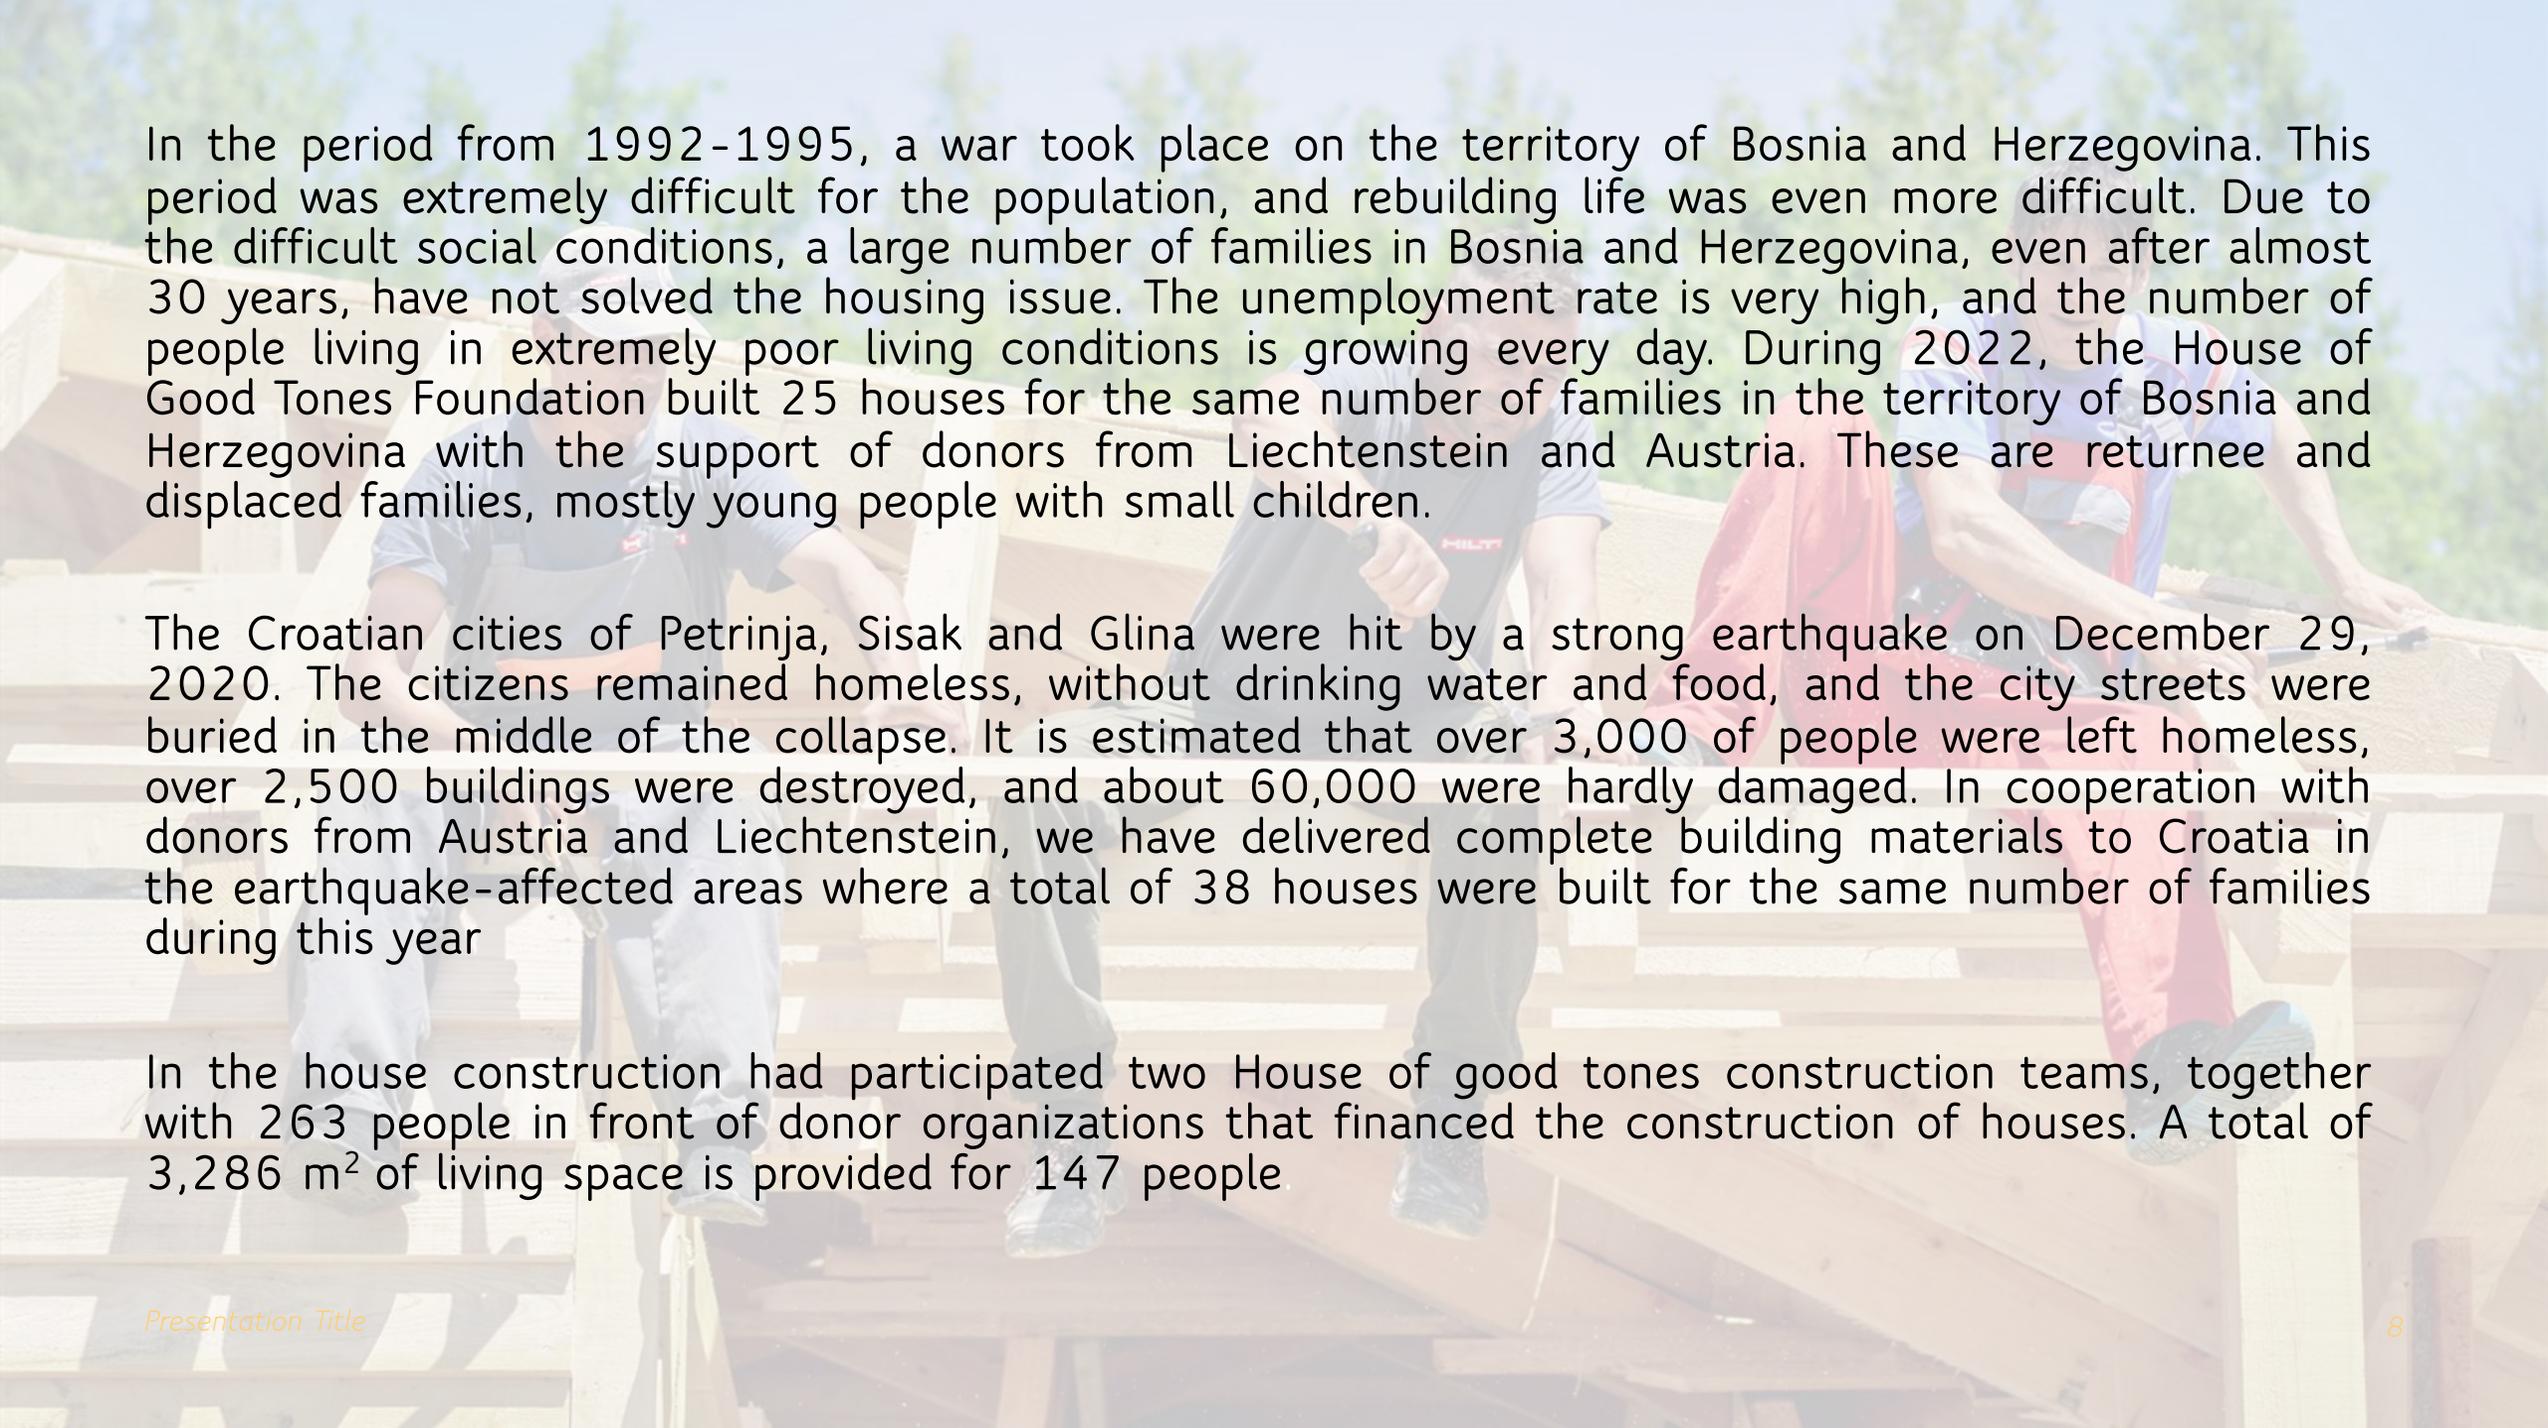

In Croatia, 38 families got a roof over their heads

During this year, houses were built in Croatia for 38 families who were left without their homes after the devastating earthquake that hit the area of Petrinja and Glina in December 2020.

HOGT foundation Social housing project

The background of the slide is a faded photograph of several construction workers. They are wearing safety harnesses and are positioned on a wooden framework, likely part of a house under construction. The workers are engaged in various tasks, with some holding tools or materials. The overall scene is bright and outdoors, with green foliage visible in the background.

In the period from 1992-1995, a war took place on the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina. This period was extremely difficult for the population, and rebuilding life was even more difficult. Due to the difficult social conditions, a large number of families in Bosnia and Herzegovina, even after almost 30 years, have not solved the housing issue. The unemployment rate is very high, and the number of people living in extremely poor living conditions is growing every day. During 2022, the House of Good Tones Foundation built 25 houses for the same number of families in the territory of Bosnia and Herzegovina with the support of donors from Liechtenstein and Austria. These are returnee and displaced families, mostly young people with small children.

The Croatian cities of Petrinja, Sisak and Glina were hit by a strong earthquake on December 29, 2020. The citizens remained homeless, without drinking water and food, and the city streets were buried in the middle of the collapse. It is estimated that over 3,000 of people were left homeless, over 2,500 buildings were destroyed, and about 60,000 were hardly damaged. In cooperation with donors from Austria and Liechtenstein, we have delivered complete building materials to Croatia in the earthquake-affected areas where a total of 38 houses were built for the same number of families during this year

In the house construction had participated two House of good tones construction teams, together with 263 people in front of donor organizations that financed the construction of houses. A total of 3,286 m² of living space is provided for 147 people

A conference hall is built as a part of the "Ensemble house" complex

HOGT Foundation annual report 2022

After the construction and furnishing of four houses last year, this year we have finished the construction of a conference hall with a capacity of 200 people which is part of a modern center "Ensemble House", settled in village Pale near Srebrenica, that is becoming a place for training and education of young people from our country, Europe, and the world.
